THE PROBLEMS FACING THE INDUSTRY

Inadequate infrastructure and funding in third-world countries lead to poor sports facilities and limited access to essential resources for athlete development.

A shortage of qualified coaches and structured development programs hinders the nurturing of young talent to their full potential.

Economic constraints prevent players in less affluent nations from competing at higher levels due to costs like travel and proper nutrition

Corruption and mismanagement within soccer's governing bodies and clubs in some countries impede growth and undermine fair competition.

Athletes in third-world countries face limited international exposure, reducing their chances of being scouted by major clubs.

WITH BLOCKCHAIN SPORTS

Decentralized Funding for Clubs: Providing football clubs and academies with access to capital for nurturing young talent through a decentralized model, democratizing the sport's financial aspects and ensuring talented athletes receive the support they need.

Career Advancement for Athletes: Promoting young athletes from training to professional play, increasing their market value and providing a pathway to top-level contracts, benefiting both players and clubs.

Fan Participation and Rewards: Enabling fans who sponsor players through NFTs to share in the financial rewards of the player's career progression, including a share of transfer fees, fostering a community-driven support system.
